PIONEER WASHER.
E. G. BOLTER,
AGENT FOR OREGON AND WASHINGTON TERRITORY.
THIS CELEBRATED WASHING MACHINE IS now for the first time introduced to the Oregon public. It is unrivalled for its simplicity, durability and the rapidity and ease of its action. Washing the dirtiest clothes perfectly clean in from five to ten minutes, with but slight labor and lasting with proper care for ten years. The wear and tear of clothing in washing by this machine is vastly less than by any other known process of washing. It does its work by a reverse motion in forcing the water through the clothes.
In leaving a tight cover, the steam thus assists materially in cleansing the clothes and also avoids the inhaling of steam from hot suds.
This Machine captured the Special Premium at the California State Fair, and all that have used it pronounce it an invaluable adjunct to all housekeepers and families and washing men and washing women.
It has been extensively introduced throughout the State of California and receives the universal commendation of all who have used it.
THE COUNTY RIGHTS, now unsold, will be sold at a bargain if applied for soon.

Secret History of Sumter

The New York Times has obtained possession of some interesting papers from rebel sources, relating to Fort Sumter. Governor Pickens, of South Carolina, wrote thus on the 17th December, 1860, to President Buchanan in a letter headed "strictly confidential:"

I am authentically informed that the forts in Charleston harbor are now being thoroughly prepared to turn, with effect, their guns upon the interior and the city. Jurisdiction was ceded by this State expressly for the purpose of external defence from foreign invasion and not with any view that they should be turned upon the State.

In an ordinary case of mob rebellion, perhaps it might be proper to prepare them for sudden outbreak. But when the people of the State, in sovereign Convention assembled, determine to resume their original powers of separate and independent sovereignty, the whole question is changed, and it is no longer an act of rebellion. I therefore most respectfully urge that all work on the forts be put a stop to for the present, and that no more force may be ordered there.

The regular Convention of the people of the State of South Carolina, legally and properly called under our Constitution, is now in session, deliberating upon the gravest and most momentous questions, and the excitement of the great masses of the people is great, under a sense of deep wrongs, and a full conviction of doing something to preserve the peace and safety of the State.

To see the effusion of blood, which no human power may be able to prevent, I earnestly beg your immediate consideration of all the points I call your attention to. It is not improbable that, under orders from the commandant, or, perhaps from the Commander in Chief of the army, the alteration and defense of those posts are progressing without the knowledge of yourself or the Secretary of War.

The Arsenal in the city of Charleston, with the public arms, I am informed, was turned over very properly to the keeping and defence of a State force, at the urgent request of the Governor of South Carolina. I would most respectfully, and from a sincere devotion to the public peace, request that you would allow me to send a small force, but exceeding twenty five men and an officer, to take possession of Fort Sumter immediately, in order to give a feeling of safety to the community. There are no United States forces in that fort whatever, or perhaps only four or five at present, besides some additional workmen or laborers lately employed to put the guns in order. If Fort Sumter could be given to me as Governor, upon a permission similar to that by which the Government was permitted to keep the Arsenal, with the United States arms in the city of Charleston, then I think the public mind would be quieted, under a feeling of safety, and as the Convention is now in full authority, it strikes me that it could be done with perfect propriety. I need not go into particulars, for urgent reasons will force themselves readily upon your consideration. If something of the kind be not done, I cannot answer for the consequences.

I send this by a private and confidential gentleman, who is authorized to confer with Mr Trescott fully, and to receive through him any answer you may think proper to give to this.

TRESLOTT TO PICKENS.

The above letter was read to Buchanan on the 20th December, with a request for an answer on the 21st, but was withdrawn for fear Buchanan would have to say no. In a letter to Pickens, Trescott says:

That the withdrawal of the letter was "most opportune," that President Buchanan had removed Colonel Gardiner (the predecessor of Major Anderson) from command at Fort Moultrie, "for carrying ammunition from the arsenal at Charleston," that Buchanan had refused to send reinforcements to the garrison there. That he had "accepted the resignation of the oldest, most eminent and highest member of his Cabinet (General Cass), rather than consent to send additional force"; that the writer felt assured that at the moment, Buchanan could not have gone to the extent of action you desired, (to wit the giving up of Fort Sumter,) and that if forced to answer the letter then, he would have taken such ground as would have prevented his even approaching it hereafter, that the writer was perfectly satisfied "the status of the garrison would not be disturbed", and that the withdrawal of the letter "was a great relief to the President, who is most earnestly anxious to avoid an issue with the State or authorities, and I think has encouraged him disposition to go as far as he can in this matter."

PICKENS TO SIMONS.

The following is a portion of a letter from Gov. Pickens to Brigadier General Simons, dated January 2d, 1861:

Your extraordinary report received last night, and have only to say that I did not pretend that the orders and disposition of the forces in Charleston harbor at all perfect or beyond the criticism of military rule. But, in the first place, there was when I came to the city a distinct pledge of faith between the government at Washington [take note of this Mr Buchanan] and those who had a right to speak for South Carolina, that everything in the harbor, and all the forts, should remain precisely as they then were, and that there should be no increase of force or any reinforcements sent from abroad until our commissioners presented themselves at Washington and made regular negotiation for the forts. I acted with confidence upon this pledge. Suddenly we were surprised from the step taken by Major Anderson, now acknowledged and proclaimed by the late Secretary of War [Floyd, naively] to be in open violation of the faith of the Government.

RECONSTRUCTION IN LOUISIANA.—General Sheridan writes as follows concerning the progress of reconstruction in Louisiana:

HEADQUARTERS FIFTH MILITARY DIST, NEW ORLEANS Aug 4, 1867

General U S Grant Commanding Army United States Washington, D C.—General: I have the honor to submit for your consideration the following: That the State of Louisiana is registered in accordance with the Act of Congress, dated March 2 1867 and the bills supplementary thereto. The public books are nearly made out, and the Commissioners of Election for each polling precinct appointed. The number of registered voters will be slightly over one hundred and twenty thousand, the State will on all probability come in as a Union State. In accomplishing this registration I have had no opposition from the masses of the people, on the contrary much assistance and encouragement. Out from the public press, especially that of the city of New Orleans and from office holders and their backers disfranchised, I have met with bitterness and opposition. The greatest embarrassment with which I have had to contend was the constant rumors of my removal published nearly every day in the papers of this city. It was a serious embarrassment as it was checking down the confidence of the people in my acts but notwithstanding this, we worked patiently and industriously, having only in view right and justice and the law in its spirit "have, as I have heretofore stated to you, permitted no political machinery to help or influence me in this work. Receiving the law as an order it was so executed. I regret that I have to make the charge against Brigadier General L H Rousseau United States Army of violating my command recently, and, without exhibiting any authority, interfering with my duties and suggesting my removal.

I am General very respectfully your obedient servant P H SHERIDAN, Maj General U S A

CONFEDERATE GREY.—Among the regiments of militiamen recently organized in Maryland is one styling itself the "Maryland Guard." It is commanded by Colonel Herbert, who held a commission in the rebel army during the late war, and the uniform of the regiment is as near as possible an imitation of the Confederate grey. Considering that the public sentiment under which peaceful lines as those are possible has grown up almost within speaking distance of the National Capitol, how much advance has been made in Maryland since the hour when President Lincoln had to pass through Baltimore in disguise to save himself from assassination.

An insurance agent in Georgia, urging a gentleman to insure his life said, "Take a policy for ten thousand dollars, and if you die next week the widow's heart will sing for joy."

LETTERS FROM WASHINGTON TERRITORY

[FROM OUR TRAVELING CORRESPONDENT.]

CEDARVILLE, W. T., Sept. 6, 1867.

A WHALE.

I passed the remains of a whale on the beach near Oysterville. It is so near gone that the great bone in the head has separated from the body, the flesh having all parted from it. I had an opportunity of measuring it. It was sixteen feet long and nine feet wide. The monster must have been at least ten feet in diameter at the forward fins. Near by is a huge pile of carcass—ten or fifteen tons. These monsters die from wounds, disease or old age, and drift ashore, making rich prizes for the Indians, who are very fond of the blubber, or fat, which lies between the skin and flesh.

TOKE'S POINT LIGHT-HOUSE

is situated on the low point of land north of the mouth of Shoalwater Bay. It is exposed to the full force of the winds from almost every direction, and is a bleak and dreary place, being surrounded by drifting sands. There is no one living nearer than six or seven miles; so the light house keepers must have a lonely time of it. This light is of the fourth order, and is called a "fixed light, varied by a flash." It has a "hydraulic" lamp and consumes one and a half quarts of oil per night. The flash occurs precisely every two minutes and lasts about fifteen seconds, and is caused by a plano convex lens, which is made to revolve around the light by clock machinery. At a distance this light seems (during the intervals between flashes) like a brilliant star, until just before the flash, when it is partially eclipsed, and one would think it was about to expire, when suddenly it glares up like the flash of the brightest meteor, then a partial eclipse follows for a moment, when the steady light is resumed. The lantern tower runs up through the keeper's house and is not more than thirty feet high. The house is built of brick and is large, substantial, convenient and well furnished. There are two keepers. The chief keeper, Mr. G. B. McEwan, receives $1,000, and his assistant, $750 per annum. The four keepers at Cape Disappointment are paid at the same rates. The "Aid to the Revenue," (or Inspector of Customs,) at Oysterville, has a salary of $1,000 a year. He is kept there to prevent frauds on the revenue; but his most arduous duty is to go to Astoria four times a year to draw his quarterly pay. He is an excellent man, but has some "oddities," one of which I must tell. He has an ox that he calls Joshua, which he rides. He has a saddle for him and guides him with small ropes attached to his horns. When a vessel arrives and anchors in front of the town, the Inspector (at low tide, when the water is so shoal that the vessel lies nearly "high and dry aground,") mounts Joshua, hoists the Revenue flag, and rides off to board her, examine her papers, and see if she is all right. These "aids to the revenue" are kept at nearly all of the little bays and harbors along the coast to prevent smuggling. Whether it is wise policy or not, I do not undertake to determine.

When I got ready to leave the light-house, Mr. Nelizen, the assistant keeper, went out to the prairie and caught a horse for me to ride to

GRAY'S HARBOR.

He said the horse belonged to a friend of his, a clever man, and a subscriber to the OREGONIAN, and he felt sure that it would be all right for me to ride him. So I concluded to take the chances of its being "all right," rather than to walk the fourteen miles. The Harbor is fourteen miles north of Shoalwater Bay. There is a narrow sandy prairie bordering on the ocean the whole distance, with small lakes and cranberry marshes lying back of it. There is no person living between the two bays, yet there are 400 or 500 cattle and horses, belonging to persons at the Harbor, grazing upon the prairie. Gray's Harbor is a large bay (though less than Shoalwater,) with a good entrance. There are four fathoms of water on the bar at ordinary low tide, and the channel is straight and the bar narrow. At Chehalis Point on the south side of the harbor, is a vacated military post, which has not been occupied for five or six years. The Government buildings are in the charge of Hon. Giles Ford, who is also Postmaster at the point. The Carters of Portland laid out a town here several years ago, but did not realize their expectations. The Chehalis river empties into the head of the bay, about eighteen miles from the ocean, and is navigable at high water about one hundred miles.

Considerations on the California Election

From the latest California papers received we compile returns of the election in twenty one counties. In this list all the larger counties are comprised, containing two thirds of the entire vote of the State. The total vote of 1861 was 105,975. The vote in that year in the twenty one counties from which we have compiled returns of the late election, was 79 020 Of these Lincoln received 42,100 and McClellan 28,914 This year the vote in those counties was 59,710, of which Gorham received 26,031 and Haight 33,679 The increase of the Democratic vote is therefore 4,865, just half of which was given in San Francisco A proportionate increase in the remaining counties would make the Democratic vote for Governor in the whole State, something near 6,000 larger than in 1861. But on the general ticket the gain is from 1,000 to 2,000 less than on Governor, so that the actual increase of the Democratic vote of California can hardly exceed 4,000. A part of this came from the opposition of the Germans to the Sunday Law; a part of it came from the general dissatisfaction of the Unionists with their ticket, under the influence of which some would naturally vote with the Democrats, and a part of it came from the legitimate gains of the party on their old vote by reason of the increase of the voting population of the State. The registration shows that there are more voters in the State at this time than there were in 1864. From these facts it will readily be seen that the actual Democratic gains are small; that they are owing entirely to local causes, and that they do not proceed at all from any change of sentiment on questions of national politics.

The loss on the Union vote in the twenty one counties is 16,075. A proportionate loss in the remainder of the State will show a total decrease in the Union vote of over 20,000. The Union losses and Democratic gains may therefore be stated comprehensively as follows: The Union ticket receives 20,000 votes fewer than were thrown for Lincoln; the Democratic ticket receives 4,000 to 5,000 votes more than were thrown for McClellan. The net loss on the whole vote of the State cannot be less than 15,000, and some of the papers assert that it will be much greater. Now as the actual voting population of California has increased rather than diminished since 1864, it is easy to see from the figures we have presented that the Unionists have a large majority in the State. The Democratic ticket has not received anything near a majority of the entire vote. In 1864 McClellan received 43,841 votes in the State, out of 105,975. This year the average Democratic vote will not exceed 48,000; and had it not been for the bad nominations made by their opponents, the Democrats would have no larger vote now than they got in 1864. Nothing is more evident than the fact that they have not elected their ticket by obtaining for it a majority of the votes of the State, but solely because the Republicans let the election go by default, preferring to allow the Democrats to succeed rather than endorse the frauds by which Gorham, Conness and others were seeking their own aggrandizement, utterly regardless of the will of the party.

The Atlanta Monument.

Several weeks ago the members of the Loyal League in Atlanta, Ga., organized a movement for a monument to be erected in Atlanta to the memory of Abraham Lincoln. They sent circulars to all portions of the State, and this is the response received from one journal—the Chronicle & Sentinel—published in Augusta.

We suggest to the patriotic Unionists, Brown, Dunning, Markham, Farrow & Company, that the material for the monument which it is proposed to erect to the memory of "our late lamented," can be found in great abundance upon all the battle fields of the late war. Let them send out and gather the bones of the brave and patriotic Southerners who fell by the bullets of Lincoln's hirelings while fighting for their country's rights, and which lie bleaching upon the hills and valleys of every Southern State. Let them collect the crimson gore of their noble hearts which stained the fields and reddened the grass of a thousand farms in Virginia and Georgia, Mississippi and Tennessee.

Let the monumental pile, formed by the bones and cemented by the blood of fallen patriots, be raised until its peak shall kiss the skies, a fitting monument of Southern devotion to the memory of him who will pass into history as the greatest and most wicked murderer of this or any other age.

If these Atlanta patriots wish a pretty inscription for their "gorgeous pile," let us suggest the following:

FORMED OF THE BONES
AND
CEMENTED BY THE BLOOD OF THE
GLORIOUS PATRIOTS
Who fell by hireling bullets while fighting for their country's cause.
THIS MONUMENT
IS ERECTED
TO THE MEMORY
OF
ABRAHAM LINCOLN,
BY
ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND
WIDOWS AND ORPHANS, WHO
RECOGNIZED IN HIM
THE BLOODY MURDERER
OF THEIR
HUSBANDS AND FATHERS,
AND THE
FANATICAL DESTROYER
FREE GOVERNMENT IN AMERICA.

Of course the paper in which this elegant specimen of Democratic literature was originally published, declares that the freedom of the press has been destroyed and that liberty is utterly dead. The Copperhead papers of this State should by all means publish the above, both because it furnishes an unusually forcible illustration of Democratic principles, and also for the reason that it will afford them another fine opportunity to mourn over the utter annihilation by the "Radical destructionists" of the liberty of the press throughout the land.

Andrew Johnson is still at his old tricks. Last July he tried to have one Isaac L. Gibbs confirmed as Governor of Idaho, but the Senate being well aware that Hon. David Ballard was already Governor of the Territory and that he was an honest and capable officer, refused the confirmation. But Johnson, being fully determined to have Ballard out, has caused a dispatch to be sent to him at Boise City suspending him from his official functions and informing him that Gibbs has been appointed to act in his place. This is one of the grossest outrages yet perpetrated by the accidental occupant of the White House. It is a direct violation of the tenure of office act, and is a displacement of an upright and competent officer by one whose only recommendation is that he is a fit tool of the Executive. If Congress does not have a reckoning with the man who is trying to make himself king, we shall be mistaken.

A "refrigerating car" has been invented and put in operation whereby slaughtered animals are transported from the West to Eastern markets, and the meat kept pure and fresh. This is regarded a great improvement in the method of getting meats to market, as the animals are slaughtered while in good condition, and the long journey by rail in crowded, pent-up freight cars, often resulting in the exhaustion and death of the animals, is avoided.

It will be remembered that some months ago two sailors were killed at Port Townsend, W. T., and that two men named Tripp and Keyes were arrested for the murder. The grand jury at that place has failed to find an indictment against the accused, and a petition has been circulated at Port Townsend and numerously signed by the citizens asking that another jury be summoned to consider the cases.

STATE ITEMS.

The editor of the Sentinel who has been on a tour through the Willamette Valley says "The Willamette Valley produces a surplus, but just enough to be a bath-eration If thousands of bushels of grain were raised where hundreds now are the market would be better, for inducements would then be held out to foreign traders and merchants to come and purchase

The Sentinel says that Fort Klamath is garrisoned with only 15 men, under lieutenant Hendricson —Lieutenant Small with a greater portion of the company and a number of Klamath Indians, having left on a scout in the Snake country We hope soon to hear that they have found the game and "bagged it, as the season for military operations is growing short

The Jacksonville paper has the following "A week or two since, Mr Joseph Sampkins, well known in this community as a very pretty sample of the scalawag, took unto himself a wife He had secured the affections of a too confiding lady in Josephine county, and the twain were made one Happily rose the honey moon, and everything was lovely, until madam became suspicious that Joseph's allegiance was legally due to another woman, living in Marion county Arriving in Jacksonville she immediately ascertained, by telegraph, that the faithless Joseph had a wife living at Scio, Linn county, who would like to be rid of the gay deceiver, but couldn't Returning home to Josephine, the new Mrs Sampkins met her loving lord, and pointing on him a torrent of invective such as is peculiar to an enraged woman, no doubt bore in a hurry Poor Joe [illegible] but wisely but too much, should he be again seen in these parts he may find himself in the tender embrace of that new shackle, just made to the order of Sheriff Owen and ultimately introduced to some high dignitaries of State, at Salem Returns, Joseph come back! notices from the press and fame await thee

Fortunate Escape.

Few people in this territory are aware of the extent of the combination that was formed for the purpose of removing Gov Ballard and appointing Gibbs to be Governor of Idaho Still less do they comprehend the magnitude of the villainy intended. The mere appointment of a Copperhead Governor for our Territory amounts to nothing only as a means to accomplish other objects. We have not the figures at hand, but the Nez Perces treaty involves the expenditure of between three and five hundred thousand dollars. It was the intention to make merry with that large sum of money. If it had not been appropriated after the style of Caleb Lyon and H. C Gibson, it would have been distributed among a faithful few, to good advantage to Indian agents, contractors, and to help carry the next territorial election for the Democratic candidates. The treaty was made long ago, but not ratified The Indians, disappointed at the delay, had become careless and indifferent whether it was ever ratified or not. But finally the Senate did ratify the treaty last winter, and becoming aware of the danger of further delay, immediately made the necessary appropriations to carry it into effect, and provided that the same should be applied to the purpose for which it is intended within one year from the date of the passage of the act. Disregarding the law, the Indian department has withheld the appropriation until nearly one half the time limited in the act has expired. Well may the question arise in the minds of the Indians why are not the treaty stipulations fulfilled? But few white people can answer it satisfactorily. We fully believe that it was and still is withheld for the sole purpose of allowing it to be stolen and divided through the knavery and duplicity of a successor to Governor Ballard. The fact that a drunken beast like Gibbs was appointed in place of Ballard is strong evidence of assertion. While Ballard is Superintendent of Indian affairs the money can't be stolen. Every person in the department must render an account that admits of no peculation. That does not suit the Copperhead-Johnsonites, neither in Idaho nor at Washington. The Idaho appropriations are too good a thing to be entrusted in such hands, and so a pliant, drunken, bestial tool must be put in position to give "the faithful" a chance. Then again see how apparent the knavery and dishonesty of the attack upon Governor Ballard is. The Indian Department certifies to the Senate that Ballard is not recognized as Superintendent of Indian affairs, and therefore they cannot remit the appropriations, and at the same time allege that through the negligence and remissness of the Superintendent the Indians in Idaho are becoming restless and troublesome. The well known fact is that the only cause of complaint from the Nez Perces is the failure of the department to fulfill the conditions of the treaty with them; and it is further notorious that the only part that Governor Ballard has taken in the matter was to visit those Indians and endeavor to quiet them until the Government should place it in his power to keep its faith with them. But this rotten scheme and the corruption of the chief conspirators become more apparent when it is remembered that the same department which made this villainous attack upon Gov. Ballard has repeatedly stultified itself by recognizing him as the Superintendent of Indian affairs, and he only a few months ago received an appropriation for general purposes, in the Superintendency of which he has all along and still is disbursing according to law. We have not here told half what we happened to know about this thing, but it is enough to give some idea of what a fortunate escape from corruption it was for our territory when Holbrook and Street's Democratic Gibbs was defeated for Governors. At the proper time we shall refer to the subject again, and call some familiar names in connection with it.—Boise Statesman.

WHAT DID IT.—As an evidence of the cause which produced the defeat in California, we quote the following item from the San Jose Mercury:

As an evidence of the indifference of Union men, in the recent election, we cite the fact that in the Burnet precinct there are one hundred and five Union voters, whose names are on the Great Register. Of this number only fifty five came out and voted. There were forty-five registered Democrats in that precinct, every one of whom voted. Dissatisfaction with the Union party for making unwise nominations is what defeated us.

Of like purport is the following from the Yreka Journal:

Out of 34 Union votes cast on Humbug, only nine were for the straight Union ticket. There was also much scratching in this town of the Union State ticket. At Butteville several Union votes were cast for the county ticket alone. In other parts of the county the scratching mania is about equal to the above named places, clearly showing that if the Union men had not been demoralized by the influence of their State Convention, they would have elected most of the county ticket by handsome majorities.

WANTED—AN ASYLUM FOR MONARCHS.—The London Morning Herald has actually fallen to making fun of royal personages who have had losses. In an article on King Otho, of Greece, it remarks:

Many a St. Germains is required for the dispossessed sovereigns of Europe. His Majesty, formerly of Naples, is in retirement, his Majesty, formerly of Hanover, has been discrowned; the Dukes or Duchesses regnant of Parma and Modena are in private life; and we know what a royal bevy of illustrous descent and of unchallenged virtue finds a home, and almost a loyalty of welcome among ourselves Philosophers might preach a good deal to these personages without convincing them. They are not the most wretched of mankind. Yet men are apt to compare themselves, if fallen, with what they were, not with others who never mounted the height whence to fall.

In 1850 Moses A Dow, then a compositor in the Boston Traveler office, without five dollars in money, with small children and large debts, and without education or a particle of literary talent, started the Waverly Magazine, a weekly paper, open to all those who choose to write stories and verses without pay, and depending for its attractions on beautiful typography and a large amount of reading matter, such as it was. He has now $50,000 a year from the paper, owns $200,000 in brick buildings, and has just built in addition, a fine hotel in Charlestown, costing half a million dollars.

The new Constitution of Maryland, as drafted by the Democratic Convention at Annapolis, is to be submitted to a vote of the people on Wednesday, Sept. 25, and, if adopted, the rebel Democracy will proceed to take complete possession of the State in the November election—all public offices being vacated except the office of Governor, which Mr. Swann is permitted to retain in consideration of his treachery to the party which elected him.

A lawyer who was somewhat forgetful, having been engaged to plead the case of an offender, began by saying "I know the prisoner at the bar, and he bears the character of being the most consumate and impudent scoundrel" Here some one whispered to him that the prisoner was his client, when he immediately continued "But what great and good man ever lived who was not calumniated by his cotemporaries!"

The first lot of Bonds for the construction of the Willamette Valley Railroad have been prepared and sent East by the Company J L. Parrish and C. N Terry of Salem, act as Trustees for the bond holders.

The Lewiston Journal continues to advocate the annexation of Northern Idaho to Washington Territory, and gives some very cogent reasons therefor.

The Columbus (S. In general they seem to have not been much influenced by mere political harangueers, or, if influenced in any degree at first, they appear to be returning to a proper sense of their own interest in their new political relations.

FENIAN TARGET AND PIC-NIC EXCURSION.—The Fenian Guard, Capt. Cahalin, and their guests went, on board the steamer Okanagan, to Oswego, yesterday, leaving the Morrison street wharf at 11 o clock A. M. This was the second annual celebration by the company, and from the accounts we get, was a very pleasant affair throughout. The excursion was accompanied by the band belonging to Lee & Ryland's circus, and several volunteers from this city. At Milwaukie, the company was saluted by a gentleman on shore, by the waving of the national green. The company acknowledged the salute in a proper manner, amid cheers and the waving of handkerchiefs. Arrived at Oswego, the excursionists betook themselves to the exercises of the day—the Guards to target shooting and the guests to dancing and other amusements. Upon the return of the excursion at 7 o'clock P. M., the committee appointed to adjudge the prizes, made the following distribution according to merit. 1st Maltese Cross, presented by Capt. E. Cahalin; won by O. Kenney. 2d Pair choice Cassimer pants; by Barman Bros., won by F Beugen. 3d. Pair fine French calf boots; by Kust & Cahalin, won by E Dowes. 4th. Fine Silken hat, by Mr Meussdorffer, won by Patrick Coakley. 5th Pair fancy vases; by J. McHenry, won by Sergeant Quinn. 6th Case French wine—officer's prize; by E Martin & Co., won by Capt. E Cahalin. 7th Isle of Andrew Johnson; by J. J. Meagher, won by C Dillon. 8th Three fancy scarfs, by Kohn & Fished, won by E Dougherty. 9th Gold pen and holder; by Capt. Cahalin, won by J. C Grey. 10th Silver match box, by Frank Belknap; won by Sergeant Fagan. 11th. Three vols Hardy's Tactics; by the Company; won by John Donovan. 12th. U S. Army Regulations; by Capt. D O'Reagan; won by A. McKun. 13th Leather medal; by the C mpany; won by the man who, it is hoped will be more fortunate next time. The Awarding Committee were Capt E Cahalin, Capt D O'Reagan, W P. Burke, P. J. Martin, Lieut. E Campbell, of Washington Guard, E. Gallagher, D. Walton and First Lieut. L. B. Barry.

HOME MANUFACTURES.—One of the institutions of this city which ranks among the first in importance to the general welfare of the country, is the Clothing Manufactory of Mr. A. Roberts. We visited the rooms yesterday and met with something of a surprise, at the magnitude of the enterprise. Something over a year ago the manufactory was established in this city by parties, of whom Mr Roberts was one, with a small capital and on a small scale. Since last February, Mr. Roberts has been the sole proprietor. He has added largely to the number of operatives and machinery and is now carrying on a business which employs not less than fifty operatives and a correspondingly extended capital. He has thirty-two sewing machines running ten hours a day, making up from twenty to thirty dozens of flannel under and over shirts, and about three dozen pairs of pants per day. He employs four or five only of white males, the rest of the operatives are women and Chinamen. Of the latter there are about a dozen. Mr. Roberts says they quickly acquire skill in the use of the machines, and are industrious and steady. The machines used are mostly the Singer patent. He has also of Singer's patent, a button hole machine which is totally one of the most ingenious things we ever saw, and its work is most perfect. Mr Roberts manufactures for the Oregon City, the Salem and sometimes for the Eagle mills. Messrs. Louis Fleischner & Co, who have shipped manufactured clothing within the last three months to the amount of over $60,000, have all their goods made up by Mr Roberts. This, however, is only a small part of the work, turned out by the manufactory. These facts give some idea of the magnitude of its operations and its importance to this community. The reputation of the clothing turned out by Mr. Roberts, stands first in all the markets to which it has been introduced.

MINING PROSPECTS IN THE SANTIAM DISTRICT.—The Salem Record of the 18th, speaks of the return from the Santiam mines, of the Messrs. Salmon who have been for some time running the mill upon refuse rock of the White Bull ledge. There are in this city a number of holders of stock in the Santiam mines, who will doubtless be glad to hear the result of these operations and we, accordingly, condense the Record's statement: They consider that the White Bull ledge is the most reliable and valuable they have seen. They worked in the mill, very carefully, over forty tons of refuse ores that had been run through sluices to wash off the decayed portions and sulphurets found in veins through the mine. Out of this ore, deemed worthless, they saved nearly four dollars per ton. The average ores of the vein yield over two dollars per ton. A reasonable cost of mining and reducing the ores is fixed at $7 per ton. Mr. Salmon is desirous of making some arrangement with the companies interested, to carry on operations for a year to come, and will assume all the responsibility, paying a proportion of the proceeds, or himself receiving such a portion. There are two brothers Salmon and Mr. Howard in company, and all three being experienced quartz and mill men, are willing to take hold of it in this manner. They say the ores of the White Bull are the easiest crushed and worked they have ever known. The gold is easily saved, the facilities for fuel, water, ease of mining, cost of labor and supplies, all favor the production of gold from the mine in paying quantities, and at a low average cost.

RECORDER'S COURT.—The proceedings in the Recorder's Court yesterday, were as follows:

State of Oregon vs. Jacob Koenig; charged with assault and battery upon Perry Baker; continued till this morning.

State of Oregon vs. Mary Koenig; assault and battery upon Perry Baker, continued till this morning.

State of Oregon vs. Perry Baker and Chas. Stewart; assault and battery upon Mary Koenig; charge against Stewart dismissed, on motion of Prosecuting Attorney; Baker tried and judgment reserved till all the other cases are tried.

State of Oregon vs. Perry Baker; assault and battery upon Jacob Koenig; tried and judgment reserved.

State of Oregon vs. Wm. Brunner; assault upon Perry Baker; continued till this morning.

These are the persons charged with being engaged in the scrimage of Wednesday afternoon. As yet, the victory does not seem to perch exclusively on the banner of either one of the contending hosts.

SUPREME COURT.—The Record of Wednesday contains the following Supreme Court proceedings of the 17th:

A. B. Richardson, appellant, vs. L. C. Fuller & Co. and H. Martin & Co., respondents. Judgement reversed.

James Smith, respondent, vs. Joseph Magone et al., appellants. Judgment affirmed.

State of Oregon, appellant, vs. Dorville Brown, respondent. Judgement reversed.

State of Oregon, respondent, vs. John Dougherty, appellant. Case argued and submitted.

Barney Trainor, respondent, vs. County of Multnomah, appellant. Submitted.

J. W. Kern, respondent, vs. A. C. Gibbs et al., appellants. Case argued and submitted

R. E. Murphy, respondent, vs. Oregon Steam Navigation Company, appellants. Case argued and submitted.

Adam Van Duson, respondent, vs. James Welch, appellant. Argued.

USEFUL AND CONVENIENT.—Mr. Abram Bergman, for a long time a resident of this city, showed us yesterday, the model of an invention of his—a combination mop and wringer—an article for which every housewife has use. The mop head consists of two adjustable rollers, one of which holds the mop rag—an endless apron. The other roller may be pressed down upon this by means of a thumbscrew so as to accommodate itself to an apron of any thickness. The lower roller is furnished with a crank by turning which the apron is passed between the rollers as clothes pass through the ordinary patent wringers, and thus is wrung out. Near the mop head is an adjustable brace or stay by which the mop may be supported upon the edge of a tub or bucket, thus saving the necessity of holding it up while wringing. He can manufacture this useful and convenient little apparatus for about $1 50.

A SPLENDID GROUP PICTURE.—In the show window of Mr. W. T. Shanahan's Music and Art Gallery, may be seen a large steel plate picture of the "Authors of the United States." The group comprises forty-seven persons, every one of whose names is as familiar almost as a household word. The picture has a history, accompanying, also, so that those who are not familiar with the personal appearance of the originals, may easily find the likeness of their favorite author. We doubt if any country in the world can present in one group so many authors of any age, with whose personal and intellectual appearance, so little fault could be found. There is absolutely not a single head in the group which does not show a very large development of the front and top brain. The picture is one which would adorn the most richly hung well in the world.

THIRTY-EIGHT PIGS AT ONE LITTER.—The Albany Journal says: "Below Oregon City, towards Oswego, an old sow is seen that lately furnished her owner with a fine start in her line, as she brought forth thirty-eight pigs in one litter." The Journal tells the story only half large enough: there were between sixty and seventy of the pigs, each of which weighed about one hundred pounds. The iron constitution of the parient was wholly unimpaired, and the whole family are "as well as could be expected."

PREPARING TO REMOVE.—Messrs. Walter Bros. are making preparations to remove their stock of goods from present location to the spacious rooms now occupied by Messrs Cohen, Lyon & Kaufman. They will also receive about that time a large addition to their stock of carpets, paper hangings, etc., etc. Messrs Cohen, Lyon & Kaufman who are about to close business, are already clearing out for the "coming'unen."

WIZARD MARTIN'S MATINEE.—For the accommodation of ladies and children who cannot well get out to an evening entertainment, Wizard Martin will give a Matinee tomorrow afternoon; doors open at one o'clock; performances to commence at two o'clock. The price of admission will be only half that to evening performances. Mr. Martin proposes to make liberal arrangements for the admission of schools.

CIRCUS.—It will be seen by advertisment that, the New York Circus, with extensive additions, will reappear in this city, next Monday evening. Mr. Ryland is expected to return by the Sierra Nevada, with new equestrians, gymnasts, acrobats; in short, all the best talent to be had on the coast. The company will appear but for one night only, prior to going to Hillsboro, Dallas and Lafayette.

BAD TASTE.—The Alta Californian's report of the Pioneers' celebration in San Francisco, says "The following appropriate sentiment, offered by Mr A G Randall was drunk with enthusiasm." If the sentiment was drunk, either with enthusiasm or corn juice, all we have to say is, that it was in very bad taste in Mr Randall to introduce it.

CIRCUIT COURT, CLACKAMAS COUNTY.—John E. Walsh vs. W. F. Burns, sheriff, habeas corpus, examination of papers and witnesses; commitment held irregular and prisoner (the plaintiff) discharged from custody by virtue thereof, but recommitted and remanded in charge of assault with dangerous weapon, admitted to bail in the sum of $200.

THE "CAROLINE."—The schooner Alfred Crosby arrived from Victoria on Tuesday with 100 tons lime rock for the Oswego Iron Works, 100 bbls lime, 300 cases and 8 bbls dog-fish oil. The Senator towed her up to Oswego yesterday morning.

A LARGE BIRD.—A couple of our boys went out hunting yesterday, and upon their return, astonished the rest of us by a story of killing a hawk which measured eleven feet from tip to tip of wings. It is a very large story—but then the bird was a big one, and we don't express any opinion. Remember that.

THE PERFORMANCE LAST EVENING.—Wizard Martin's entertainment last evening was a first rate one, though the audience was unusually small. He is, each night, introducing new and wonderful provoking tricks, and he really makes an entertainment of a very superior order. He performs again to night.

DEATH.—The schooner Phoenix from Lewis and Clark river, loaded with bark for the tanneries in this neighborhood, arrived yesterday, three days from Astoria. On the passage up, at 10 o'clock Wednesday night, Mrs. Ole Hanson, wife of the captain, died, from debility. She will be buried to-morrow.

WILLAMETTE FRESHETS.—The Senator brought down, yesterday, from Oregon City, 60 boxes apples, 310 qr sks flour, 38 bbl bbls dried apples, 335 boxes wheat, 10 bbl bbls lard and butter, 37 sks bacon, 11 boxes eggs, 11 bales woolen goods, 3 cases do, 7 bales wool and one case tobacco.

FIRE INSURANCE.—See the new advertisment of the Phoenix Fire Insurance Co., under the head, "Now today." All the experiences on this coast, of insurers with this company, have thus far tended only to establish a firm confidence in its integrity and stability.

CRUSHED BY MACHINERY.—A report came up last night from the dredger at Swan Island, that one of the hands—a man named Campbell or Cameron—was caught in some of the machinery, last evening, and badly crushed. We were not able to obtain full particulars.

CIRCUIT COURT, MULTNOMAH COUNTY.—Yesterday, in the case of Mayerean vs Duverney, the motion to discharge defendant from imprisonment on execution in civil action, was overruled and the prisoner was remanded.

CHINA RACE.—It will be seen by our report of the San Francisco markets, that the upward tendency of wheat has met with a check and that there is a prospect that prices will soon go back.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—The Judge and officers of this Court are enjoying a recess of two or three days, the Court being adjourned to Saturday.

SAILED FOR PORTLAND.—A telegram from Victoria announces the sailing of the Fidelter at 10 A. M. yesterday, for this port.

A GOOD FAULT.—Barman Bros. say that they never will be undersold by any house in this city. On corner of Front and Morrison street, Portland, and Commercial street, Salem.

Card from Judge Holt.

WASHINGTON, (D. C.) August 17, 1867.

To the Editor of the Washington Chronicle—Sir: I thank you for the explicitness with which you stated, in your issue this morning, that certain affidavits previously published in your paper, professing to expose a conspiracy against the Bureau of Military Justice, "did not constitute any part of the records of that office," were not obtained from it, "and that neither I nor any officer of said Bureau were responsible for their publication." Your statement is true in every particular. The papers referred to were never on the files of that Bureau, nor had any connection whatever with its records; nor have they ever been under my control; nor were they published with my knowledge or consent, or after any consultation with me, or intimation to me of any such purpose.

I may add further that the declaration made that a "recommendation made for Executive clemency in the case of Sanford Conover had come from the Bureau of Military Justice is untrue. My indorsement on the letter of Riddle was written in my own house, and signed by myself as a citizen, and had no connection whatever with the Bureau of Military Justice. It was in no sense a "recommendation," and neither contained, nor was intended to contain, any expression of confidence in the general integrity or truthfulness of Conover. An examination of its language will show that it was based solely on a principle of recognized public policy, or applicable to the state of facts presented by Riddle (important services rendered by Conover in the trial of Surratt), to which state of facts it was strictly confined, and that it neither urged nor suggested any definite Executive action. All averments or intimations, no matter by whom made or however supported, which seek to connect me in any degree or in any way with the alleged conspiracy against the President, are wholly false, as are all insinuations that in the step I took in concert with Riddle, I either aimed or desired to qualify Conover as a witness for any purpose whatever.

A CARD FROM GOVERNOR BROWNLOW.—The following card from Gov. Brownlow appears in the Washington Chronicle:

KNOXVILLE, Aug. 13th, 1867.

To the Editor of the Chronicle: The Springfield (Mass.) Republican of the 10th instant thus introduces the subject of our late elections:

"A letter from Nashville, Tenn., states that Gov. Brownlow promised, before election, that if his party succeeded suffrage would be extended to all the white men of his State. The Conservatives will now ask him to call the old Legislature together, as they can change the law at once, while it would take six years to carry through an amendment to the Constitution. If Brownlow refuses to fulfill his promise, there will be an agitation at once for a Convention to pass the new Constitution."

I made no such ridiculous promise, either privately or publicly, in writing or by speaking, and for the all-sufficient reason that I entertain no such sentiment. The bad conduct of the rebel papers and politicians, during our late canvass, has satisfied me that our franchise law is right. If the rebels wish peace, let them submit to the laws of this State; if they desire the reverse, let them commence "agitation."

Loyal men intend to govern this State; and they propose to do it without the advice of Northern journals falsely claiming to be Republican. I will have all such journals know that I am elected by twenty thousand of a majority on the white vote, and by fifty thousand on the entire vote of the State. Elected too, in the face of Northern opposition that ought to bow its head in shame!

W. G. BROWNLOW,
Governor of Tennessee.

SHATTERED CONSTITUTIONS RESTORED by HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

☞ We have but little confidence in the trumpet tongued statements of the proprietors of advertised medicines generally, but we are forced to concur in the opinion, uniformly expressed by all who have used PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER, that it is a very valuable article, and one that it would be well for every household to have at hand, in case of bruises, scalds, burns, diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera, fever and ague, and the host of diseases, external and internal, which it is adapted to cure or alleviate. No article of medicine ever attained to such unbounded popularity and extensive diffusion. It has penetrated to every part, even the most remote, of the known world, bearing with it its healing influences more potent than those of the spices of "Araby the blest." We are informed by our principal druggists, that they sell more of this article for exportation than any or all others, and that the demand is constantly increasing.—Salem Observer.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is pleasant in taste and color, free from all injurious properties, and immediate in its action.

Above the daisies, the pure, white daisies,
We met, one year ago
When I told my darling I loved her well,
The daisies were white as snow

One year ago! I stand where I stood—
I look at the daisies and weep,
For under the daisies, the pure, white daisies,
My darling is lying asleep

And I longingly wait for that day to come,
When under the pitying sky,
And under the daisies, the pure white daisies
By the side of my darling, I'll lie

"The Beautiful Snow"

ALBION (N. Y.) July 15th 1867.

I sat in my airy room, the cool winds of Ontario sweeping by me, with an open scrap book in my hand. I had just been reading "The Beautiful Snow," and its sad refrain was sounding in my ears as the last dying strain of an Æolian harp, when my friend entered, and casting his eyes over the verses I had been reading, he surprised me by saying that he had known the authoress of "The Beautiful Snow," when she was "as fair as the snow" of which she so feelingly wrote.

Most of your readers have, doubtless, read this beautiful and touching poem, if the latter qualification may be applied to that which seems the embodiment of the wail of a lost soul. Yet, probably but few know the name of the author, or, rather, the authoress, for only a woman's pen could have written those lines, and still a less number know the history of whose bitter experience is embodied in the poem of "The Beautiful Snow." Few poems in the English language contain more merit, or display a more pathetic conception. It is the reality of life—reality stronger than fiction.

The maiden name of the authoress to which we have alluded, was Dora Shaw. She was born and grew to womanhood in Wabash, Indiana. Her parents were not wealthy, as the world goes, yet honorable, well-to-do, and happy and wealthy in the possession of their beautiful daughter. As she grew older she grew lovelier and more beautiful. Her parents loved her to idolatry, and by frugality and self-denial they were enabled to bestow upon her an education second to none that a lady may receive. Young, handsome, accomplished, she returned to them from school little less in their eyes and the eyes of the admiring villagers, than an angel, whom they might worship, but were not worthy to keep themselves. Yet Dora was mortal in her own estimation, if ethereal in the eyes of her parents; and her heart, as that of any other maiden, was not proof against the allurements of Cupid's art, and whom should she love and esteem as her beau ideal of all that was noble and good but a young lawyer of her own village. Undoubtedly he was poor, and Dora's parents indulged the fatal delusion that their daughter's hand could not be given where wealth and rank were wanting. They determined, as so many parents have done, are doing, and always will do, to sacrifice their daughter's will, unmindful of her happiness, upon the altar of mammon. Perhaps they thought that where wealth and luxury would lead, love and happiness would follow. How seldom is this the case. What a lesson for parents the sequel shows!

About this time F. S. Lo Baum, a gentleman of culture and of immense fortune in St. Louis, visited the region where Miss Shaw lived. He saw and loved and wooed this young, beautiful and accomplished flower of the Hoosier State. In vain did she tell him that she could never love him—that her love was another's—that she could never give her hand to one who was not the possessor of her heart. He still pressed his suit with importunity, and all the influence his wealth and her parents could exert were brought to induce her to wed him. Although he never gained her consent, her parents compelled her to wed him, and the marriage that followed was hallowed by no love on her side, though doubtless her husband loved her devotedly, and did not doubt his ability to teach her to love him as the years passed by. He took his young and beautiful bride to St. Louis, to his splendid residence, and all that wealth and devoted love could bestow was hers. Still, she was not happy; the beautiful bird fluttered and worried in her gilded cage, and only longed to be free. She was introduced to, and became the admiration of, the first circles of society in the city. To the outward world she now seemed the happiest of mortals, illustrating the old adage, that the gayest heart makes sometimes saddest mourning. It was about this time that the famous theatrical manager, Ben. De Bar, was in the south of his fame in St. Louis. He had the finest company in the west. His leading star was Miss Annette Ince, no less renowned for her acting mimic life than her beauty and many womanly virtues. To this theatre Mr. and Mrs. Lo Baum went one night, and witnessed a play. Dora had never been inside a theatre before, and before the curtain fell upon the second act, she had taken a resolution which would change the whole course of her life—she had determined to be an actress, like Miss Ince.

An interview with the manager was easily obtained, who saw in the aspiration of the lady a chance to make a splendid hit, and put gold in his purse. He gave her encouragement, disclosed the idea of her first assuming a second part, but assured her that she should make her debut in the leading character of the play she had witnessed—Julia in the "Hunchback." More than encouraged, indeed, completely resolved, Dora at once commenced the study of the play, and possessing a quick intelligence, was at least master of the language in a few days. Private rehearsals appeared to give perfect satisfaction to the manager as well as the company—trained for that particular purpose and for that occasion. All this was kept from her husband.

One morning the city was thrown into a fever by the announcement in all the journals, that "Miss Dora Shaw would appear that night as Julia, in Sheridan Knowles' great play, entitled the Hunchback." Lo Baum and his friends were struck as if by a thunderbolt from heaven. His first entreated, appealed and threatened his wife, and next the manager, and finally declared his intention to murder her upon the stage the moment she made her appearance. All to no purpose. The Manager duly had all this passed into the streets, which, of cour o, increased the sensation and strengthened the desire to attend. Every ticket was sold at nine o'clock, and it is needless to say that when night came the place of amusement occupied the thoughts of the city.

The curtain rose—Dora appeared—walked, stammered, blushed and repeated her part mechanically, like any school girl reading her composition at an examination. Still the audience was pleased, not by acting, but by the novelty of the occasion. The next, the third, the fourth and the fifth nights were like the first. The morbid appetite of the public, satiated with novelty, demanded good acting. This, Dora could not supply. The audience fell off, the manager became restless, dissatisfied, and refused to offer a re engagement, but intimated that she had best go to another city. In the meantime, Lo Baum sued for a divorce which was readily granted by the court. The next appearance of Dora was in New Orleans, where her former social position was unknown, and where she was wholly thrown upon her merits as an actress for success. It were needless to say that she failed to elicit one single plaudit.

The rest of the story is soon told. Charity would wish the curtain had fallen sooner. Abandoned by friends, home, husband, penniless, broken hearted—in her despair she fell—

"Fell, like the snow-flakes, from heaven to hell;
Fell, to be trampled like filth in the street,
Fell, to be scoffed, and spit on and beat,
Pleading,
Cursing,
Dreading to die.
Selling her soul to whoever would buy,
Dealing in shame for a morsel of bread,
Hating the living, and fearing the dead."

—N. Y. Times

THE GIRL-BLASE WOMAN.—A Cape May correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial thus describes the girl-blase woman:

The girl of sixteen or seventeen, very sentimental and romantic, and very sweet withal, who fancies herself a very blase woman of the world, is now walking the corridor with her feminine cousin of twenty-five, and explaining to her the true relation of the sexes. She says: "Some women never love; they have no capacity for a passion merely tender, and if they had they meet no man who could inspire them with a lasting attachment, though you would not suspect it, Mary, I have had what Cleopatra calls her 'salad days.' When I was a more girl, before I had come to understand myself, I thought I should have difficulty in suppressing the emotions of my heart. But it is all over now, Mary. I know better. I shall die an old maid—I have a great deal of respect for old maids—for men don't appeal to me any longer."

A SUFFERING MATRON.—A Mobile journal is responsible for a touching report of what at least one Southern woman suffered by the late war, though if she were a fair representative of her sex and the part they took in the rebellion, we should feel less pity for them than we do. It appears the editor was walking down the street and heard, unavoidably, the following fragments of what must have been a most interesting conversation.

"I set a great deal by this; it is an old Confederate fan, the only thing I have left to remember the Confederacy by."

"I should think you had something else."

"Ye-s; I lost my husband in the war—and my sweetheart. It nearly killed me."

We take the liberty to doubt only the "last clause."

HOW IT CAME ABOUT.—There was a fine old General once, who, having spent most of his life in the field of Mars, knew very little about the camp of Cupid. He was one of those rough and honest spirits often met with in his gallant profession innocent as an infant of almost everything save high integrity and indomitable bravery. He was nearly 50 years old, and his toils were over, when Master Don made him acquainted with a widow Widman, in whose eyes he began to detect some thing which made him feel uneasy

Here was the result of leisure.

At length, however, the blunt honesty of his disposition rose uppermost among his conflicting plans, and his course was chosen. At school he had once studied Otiolio a Defunct, to recite at an exhibition, but made a failure. He recollected that there was something in the defence very much like what he wanted to say. He got the book immediate y, found the passage, clapped on his hat with a determined air, and posted off to the widow Wadman's with Shakspeare under his arm.

"Madame," said Don Uncle Toby, opening the book at the marked place, with the solemnity of a special pleader at the bar—"Madame—

Rude am I in my speech,
And little blessed with set phrases of peace
For since these arms of mine had seven years pith
Till now some nine moons wasted, they have used
Their dearest action in the tented field;
And little of this great world can I speak,
More than pertains to feats of broil and battle
And therefore—

Here the General closed the book, wiped his forehead, looked up at the ceiling, and said with a spasmodic gasp, "I want to get married!"

The widow laughed for ten minutes by the watch before she could utter a syllable, and then she said with precious tears of good humor rolling down her good natured cheeks, "And who is it you want to marry, General?"

"You," said Uncle Toby, flourishing his sword arm in the air, and assuming a military attitude of defiance, as if expecting an assault from the widow immediately.

"Will you kill me if I marry you?" said the widow, with a merry twinkle in her eye.

"No, madame," replied Uncle Toby, in a most serious and deprecating tone, as if to assure her that such an idea had never entered his head.

"Well, then, I guess I'll marry you," said the widow."

"Thank you, ma'am," said Uncle Toby, "but one thing I am bound to tell you—I wear a wig"

The widow started, remained silent a moment and then went into a longer, louder and merrier laugh than she had indulged in before, at the end of which she drew her seat nearer the general, gravely laid her hand on his head, gently lifted his wig off and placed it on the table.

Gen. Uncle Toby had never known fear in hot battle, but he now felt a decided inclination to run away. The widow laughed again, as though she would never stop, and the General was about to put his hat upon his denuded head and bolt, when the facetious lady placed her hand upon his arm and detained him. She then raised her hand to her own head with a rapid manœuvre, and with her finger pulled off her whole head of fine glossy hair, and placing it upon the table by the side of the general's remained seated with ludicrous gravity in front of her accepted lover, quite bald!

As may be expected, Uncle Toby now laughed along with the widow, and they grew so merry over the affair that the maid-servant peeped through the key-hole at the noise, and saw the old couple dancing a jig and bobbing their bald pates at each other like a pair of Chinese mandarins. So the two very shortly laid their heads together upon the pillows of matrimony.

THE GREAT PYRAMID.—Prof. Eaton, of New York, read an essay at a recent meeting of the Academy of Sciences in New York, on the "Great Pyramid." A gentleman of London, Mr. John Taylor, had a few years ago conceived the idea that the great pyramid had been built under Divine direction, for the purpose of affording a standard of weights and measures, and these views had been sustained by others. The pyramid was perfectly symmetrical, with five sides and five angles. It was originally 782 feet on each side, and is now the highest and largest building erected by man. Sir Isaac Newton had devoted his time and labor in analyzing the ancient cubit, and came to the conclusion that it was 25 inches, and a little more. The circle which forms the correlative to the pyramid consists of 365¼ of these cubits, thus corresponding to the year. The pyramid was made plane to the meridan, without hieroglyphics or scofet inscriptions, as all burial places of antiquity did have which are found everywhere else. The box which was found in the center of the body has been commonly supposed to be a sarcophagus, but there is no appearance to bear this theory out. No procession of priests could enter, and it is indeed difficult for any one. The granite, of which a portion of the pyramid is made, is not found near at hand, and indeed not closer than Mount Sinai. They seems to be built on the most correct principles of geometry. It coincides in pointing with the North Star, or that star which in the procession of the equinoxes four thousand years ago was the North Star. The lecturer then proceeded to show that the temperature of the central room was uniform thoughout, thus affording a place for keeping weights and measures; that the box affords an exact liquid measure; that water was found in the pyramid itself, thus giving pure material for careful examination; that the opening in the pyramid looked out on the lower culmination of the North Star, at the time of its erection, and not on the upper, because the priests would interfere with its view; and that it is on the exact spot for the purpose of taking astronomical observations.

THE VOTE OF CALIFORNIA.—The Bulletin of the 10th has the following:

Complete returns from 13 counties and partial returns from 27 more, making 40 counties in all of the whole number (50) into which the State is divided, have now been received. They show that Haight's majority is already nearly 8,000. The 10 counties yet to hear from cast but small votes, and will not probably increase the majority much above 10,000. The total vote polled is known for only 13 counties; from the remainder we have only majorities. But it seems tolerably certain that the whole vote of the State will not exceed 80,000. At the Presidential election in 1864 it was 105,075, including the soldiers' vote, which was 2,847. It is believed that at least 20,000 voters absented themselves from the ballot box, for the records of registration do not indicate a decrease in the number entitled to vote, as compared with 1864, the date of the last general election. Of these 20,000 absentees, a large majority at least would have voted the Union ticket had they voted at all, and may be relied on to support the Republican nominee for President in 1868.

A MYSTERY EXPLAINED.—Rev. Mr. , of Lawrence (Mass.), is a bachelor. Noticing early in the season that one of his members, a married lady, was not at meeting for several Sabbaths, he called to ask the reason. As her reply was somewhat evasive, he surmised she "had nothing to wear," and said, "you are waiting for your Spring bonnet, I suppose." Weeks passed and still she did not make her appearance. He therefore thought he would call again. Approaching the house, he saw her sitting at the window, and blandly remarked, "I haven't seen you at church yet; hasn't that bonnet come?" "Yes, sir," she acerbly replied; "shall I show it to you?" "If you please," answered the wondering pastor. Holding up a wee bit of a baby, she said, blushing, "That is the Spring bonnet I was waiting for; did I do right?"

A very curious incident occurred in the survey of the Iron Mountain road in the cypress swamps of Southern Missouri. The engineers, having orders to locate their surveys with the United States land surveys, had occasion to search for the marks or records made years ago in the swamps. The land surveys had marked the result of their work by cutting into the body of a tree, leveling off a smooth surface of the trunk and engrossing their record on the tablets thus prepared. The engineers found the trees of the old survey, and recognized the scars of former cuttings, but to reach the records were compelled to cut into the trees again. Now wood had grown up over the old record, completely hiding and protecting it. But, after cutting into the body down to the original tablet, they found the Surveyor's record as plain and distinct as when first made.

The Scranton (Pa.) Republican reports that a meadow near that city, for some distance around the soil emits large quantities of inflamable gas. The little boys in that neighborhood have known the existence of this natural gasometer for some time, and have made it the subject of their sports. They have been in the habit of poking sticks into the ground and lighting the gas jets that issued from the holes thus made. One strong jet has been burning there with considerable light and heat for several months.

A CLEAN HOUSEKEEPER.—An Iowa editor reports hearing the following conversation as he passed along the street the other day.

"Troth, Mrs. Murphy, what a clane housekeeper yez are entirely."

"Why so, Mrs. Flanigan?" responded the blushing recipient of the pretty compliment

"Why, yez get more dirt in wan swapin' than I do in a week!"

A jolly compositor, who spends one day in the office and the next out on a bender, attempts to prove that he is industrious, by saying that he works "day in and day out."

"CAPITAL CITY CHRONICLE."

J. R. UPTON & A. NOLTNER, Proprietors.

ON SATURDAY, AUGUST 31, 1867, A LARGE SIZE WEEKLY PAPER, with the above title, will be issued at SALEM, OREGON.

The CHRONICLE will be devoted to Politics, News, and the development of the varied resources of the State In politics the CHRONICLE will be unflinchingly Democratic, supporting and advocating all those reforms in National and State polity, so urgently demanded at the present time by every consideration involving the weal of the American people. The necessity for a Democratic organ firmly planted at the Capital, will be at once apparent to every thinking Democrat in the State. Such a one we propose to make the CAPITAL CITY CHRONICLE, and with the State thoroughly Democratic to-day, with all prospective changes in favor of that party, there is no valid reason why the enterprise shall not prove a complete success.

While the CHRONICLE will devote ample space to the discussion of political topics, the News of the day, the Agricultural Mining, Mechanical and Manufacturing interests of the State at large will receive due attention A twenty-eight column paper, 26x38 inches in size, will furnish ample space and enable us to present in each number an amount of reading matter equal to the importance of the interests involved. We only ask at the hands of the people that legitimate patronage which shall enable us to present a sheet in every way creditable to ourselves and the State—one which none may have the least reason to be ashamed of

All contracts for advertising and subscription existing with the late Democratic Review will be faithfully executed by the proprietor of the CHRONICLE.

CARD.

DR. BARLOW J. SMITH'S WATER CURE AND Pneumological Institute, 627 Sacramento Street, San Francisco. This is the only Regular Water Cure in Francisco, where all curable diseases are treated without drugs. Dr. Smith was the first to establish a water cure on this coast, based upon the theory and practice of the New York Hydropathic College.

We have a truly healthful boarding place for men, women and children, and our prices are moderate

The Pneumological organs plainly indicate the diseases to which any person, male or female, is predisposed

Put this card in your hat, and when you come to San Francisco, call on Dr. Smith. He will give you consultation and a pneumological examination in regard to health. It will cost you nothing and may save you months and years of ill health and "bad luck"

Dr. Smith gives free lectures to gentlemen every Friday evening, on subjects pertaining to health, at his Pneumological Hall, 627 Sacramento Street.

RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT!

THE MOST REMARKABLE DISCOVERY EVER MADE!

Will Cure All Pains in a Few Minutes!

Read the Certificates!

SPRAINED WRIST CURED.

PORTLAND, August 10, 1867

I was at Mr. Wegner's store on Saturday, August 10th, and seeing the magic effect of J. G. RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT, in his case, concluded to try it on my wrist which has been sprained for some time. I found relief inside of FIVE MINUTES from its application, and it is now perfectly well My wrist was so swelled I could not shut my fingers I believe it will cure any pain in a short time I will give any further particulars to whoever calls on me.

VINCENT McCULLOUGH,
Corner of Fifth and College streets.

Tumor Removed!

PORTLAND, August 10th, 1867.

I HAVE USED RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT for pain and swelling of the gum and cheek. I had a large tumor forming on the gum which arose from killing the nerve in my tooth and caused me a dreadful pain which prevented me from sleep for several nights I applied the Liniment, and to my surprise, it removed the lump and eased the pain so that it is now as well as the other cheek. My cheek was fearfully swollen. This was done in the presence of two witnesses.

I was present and know the above to be true, and am willing to swear to it L. QUIVEY.

PORTLAND, August 12th, 1867.

For five years I have suffered with a pain or weakness in my back, which at times was dreadful. I often thought I could not bear such torment. But I got a bottle of RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT, and with one rub it perfectly cured me I can recommend it to any lady suffering from pains in any way, for I am convinced it will at once remove them. Rheumatism Cured!

State of Oregon, County of Multnomah—ss

JEREMIAH BROCK, BEING DULY SWORN, SAY that I am fifty-three years of age, that I reside in Yamhill County, State of Oregon. I came to Portland on business, on horseback, from my home this morning. When I left home I could scarcely walk or stand on my feet, from Rheumatism, which has afflicted me for the last eight years. I was standing in Wilson's stable, on First street, in this city, when I heard Mr Rennick's offer to test it. He would take out the Rheumatism in any case in twenty minutes. Rennick offered to bet $100 that he could do it. I went to Mr. Rennick's house and he applied the Liniment to my leg, and in twenty minutes my leg felt sound and limber, and as well as ever. NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1856, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from views absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death, a scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, viz: Pallor countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, disturbed intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

TO THE LADIES.

The various complicated and distressing diseases incident to females, treated with eminent success. Such as Suppressions, Irregularities, Whites, Falling of the Womb, Tumors, all Urinary Diseases, Nervous Debility, Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness, etc., will be speedily cured, without poisonous drugs, injurious or unpalatable medicines of any kind. Have no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be The afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves.

Persons sailing at Dr. Gibbon's office on sending for packages of medicines, may rely upon his assurances of confidential secrecy with implicit faith, and expect no more than to be charged with, a fair, and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases, rather than a too prevalent and selfish practice of extortion among quacks and pretenders.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

Consultations FREE.
